'I HAD TO SAVE MY SON'

A Queens mom watched in horror as a mad stranger snatched her youngest son off the sidewalk right in front of her Thursday night. But Dolores Diaz Lopez turned into a superhero as she swiftly bested the would-be kidnapper by reaching into his car and taking her boy back. James McGonagle (above), 24, was later arrested in the attempted abduction. His dad, also named James McGonagle, 55, who was in the car at the time and seemed shocked by the incident, is being sought for questioning.
